

Wulstan Fletcher

Wulstan Fletcher is a teacher of Modern Languages, with degrees in Modern Languages and Theology by Oxford and Rome's Universities. He completed the three-year retreat at Chanteloube, France, between 1986 and 1989. As a member of the Padmakara Translation Group (Dordogne, France) and the Tsadra Foundation (since 2001), he has been dedicating his life to the translation of a vast number of Buddhist works of reference, like:

- The Way of the Bodhisattva, Shantideva (Ed. Rev.)
- Treasury of Precious Qualities, Jigme Lingpa. (with Longchen Yeshe Dorje, Kangyur Rinpoche, commentary).
- White Lotus: An Explanation of the Seven-Line Prayer to Guru Padmasambhava, Jamgön Mipham.

For more information: <http://www.tsadrafnd.org/wulstan-fletcher.html>